Graph included for visual assistance. All stitches are Sc. Each square in the graph represents one stitch. I have written the counts for left and right handed, line-by-line, for each color change. When you reach a new color on the graph, for that row, you drop the color you have, and pick up the new color, and continue to sc. When you are finished, weave in all ends. This particular graph has the instructions for the background/polka dots ONLY. The black stitches are embroidered on afterwards. You may incorporate them into the crochet, if you wish, but it will turn out a bit differently.
